Joel McCartney
Head Coach
14th year overall
333-141 (.703)
4th year at Georgia
51-41 (.554)

Head coach Joel McCartney enters his fourth season at the helm of the Georgia program in 2010, and in his tenure, the Bulldogs have posted a 51-41 record with three 17-win seasons. In his first season at UGA in 2007, McCartney coached the Bulldogs to the biggest turnaround in school history. In 2008, McCartney directed the Bulldogs to the most Southeastern Conference victories by a Georgia squad since 2003 with 10, and in 2009, he directed the Dogs to a tie for fifth-place in the overall SEC standings, UGA's highest finish since 2004.

The 2009 Georgia squad was the youngest team McCartney has ever coached as it featured only three upperclassmen, all juniors, three sophomores and six freshmen. Despite its youth, the 2009 team finished with an overall record of 17-14 including an 8-12 SEC mark that earned the Dogs a fifth-place finish in the league. In tournament play, Georgia posted winning records in each event it played including going 2-1 at the Georgia Tech Regency Suites Invitational and 2-1 in the Georgia Dawgs Invitational. Then, UGA earned the Courtyard LaGuardia Volleyball Classic title with a 3-0 mark that capped a season-best six-match winning streak heading into conference play. In league action, Georgia captured its eight victories by sweeping the two-match, season-series with Auburn and Mississippi State while splitting series with Alabama, Arkansas, Ole Miss and South Carolina. The four teams that finished ahead of Georgia in the SEC standings and swept the Bulldogs, LSU, Kentucky, Florida and Tennessee, all advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

In 2008, Georgia went 17-14 with a 10-10 record in SEC action under the guidance of McCartney, who entered the season poised to reach a career milestone of his own. With the Bulldogs' 3-0 defeat of Furman on August 31 in the Georgia Bulldog Invitational Tournament, McCartney achieved his 300th collegiate-career head coaching victory. The Bulldogs went on to wrap up non-conference play with a record of 7-4. The conference slate did not start out the way the Bulldogs had planned dropping their first four matches, but as the season unfolded it became clear that those contests came against four of the top five teams in the league. Nevertheless, Georgia quickly rebounded to win seven out of next eight matches including a streak of six straight. The six-consecutive SEC victories marked the longest league winning streak at UGA since 2003. Undoubtedly, the highlight of the season was the final victory in that winning streak as Georgia upset the No. 8-ranked Florida Gators in Athens, 3-2. The win by the Bulldogs snapped a 45-match losing streak to the Gators, which dated back 18 years to October of 1990. Furthermore, the victory marked the first time Georgia had defeated a ranked opponent since Sept. 7, 1995. McCartney finished his second-year at the helm of the Georgia program with a UGA winning-percentage of .557, which ranks as the second-best start to a Georgia coaching career after two seasons.

During the spring of 2008, McCartney's instilled winning ways from his first season at UGA continued to develop as the Bulldogs earned the inaugural SEC Coaches' Beach Volleyball Championship. Additionally, McCartney landed the nation's 30th-ranked recruiting class for the 2008 season according to PrepVolleyball.com, which marked the first-ever ranking in school history for a Georgia volleyball recruiting class.

The 2007 Bulldogs posted a 17-13 record following just a six-win campaign in the previous season, a program-best turnaround of 11 more wins. Georgia wasted no time in turning to those winning ways in 2007 by starting the season 8-0, tying the 1993 squad for the third-best start in school history. What was even more impressive with the 8-0 start was that all eight victories were shutouts, which tied a school record for consecutive shutouts. The Bulldogs also tied a school record for consecutive games won at 25 by taking the first game against Georgia Tech on Sept. 7, 2007. Georgia closed its non-conference schedule with a record of 9-1 including a tournament title at the Georgia Southern Invitational. The 9-1 mark was the best record for a UGA team heading into conference play since the 1992 team went 12-1 before its first Southeastern Conference contest. The 2007 Bulldogs then posted eight conference victories, the most league wins for the program since 2004. Georgia's 17 total wins and eight SEC wins surpassed the combined total number of overall and conference wins from both the 2005 and 2006 seasons.

Head Coach Joel McCartney

The fifth head coach at Georgia since the program's inception in 1978, McCartney arrived in Athens with a career 282 wins in just 382 matches coached. After becoming the first Georgia coach to open his Bulldog career on a winning streak and finishing with 17 wins in each of his first two seasons at UGA, McCartney's career record now stands at 333-141 (.703), making him one of the nation's winningest active NCAA Division I coaches.

McCartney accepted the reigns at Georgia after leading Winthrop University to a 167-49 record in six years, including a 34-3 campaign in 2006 and a fifth-straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Boasting a winning percentage of .773 while at his former university in South Carolina, McCartney's Eagles won five-consecutive Big South Conference Championships in his tenure with the Winthrop program.

McCartney's sixth and final season at Winthrop in 2006 was arguably his most successful. Using the leadership of only three seniors, the Eagles exploded for 34 wins and just three losses. In addition to capturing their fifth Big South Conference championship, McCartney also led his team to the NCAA Division I Tournament, where the Eagles faced the University of Northern Iowa in the first round. Despite his team falling to the Panthers 3-1, McCartney developed Winthrop, which has an enrollment of less than 7,000, into one of the nation's toughest competitors.

McCartney has been involved in coaching volleyball since 1984 with experience as a head coach and an assistant at the Division I level and as a head coach at the NAIA level. In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, McCartney has helped develop some of the nation's top young volleyball talent as a coach and clinician for the USA National Development and Collegiate Volleyball Camps for over 20 years.

Additionally, McCartney served as a founding member of the AVCA Head Coaches Committee from 2001-07 and coached USA High Performance camps and clinics as well as USA National Team Tryouts throughout the country. He also served as a voting member of the NCAA Division I Top-25 polling committee from 2002-07.

McCartney, a native of Papillion, Nebraska, started collegiate coaching as an assistant at Eastern Kentucky University. He served in that role before accepting the first assistant coaching position at Indiana State University from 1993-95. McCartney then took over the head coaching position of the Nebraska Tornadoes, a National Volleyball Association Professional League team, from 1996-98. His 1998 team captured the NVA national championship.

During his stint as the Nebraska Tornadoes head coach, McCartney served as the head coach at Bellevue University (1996-2000). He led the NAIA program to a 115-51 overall record, recruited and coached several academic and athletic All-Americans and brought the program to national prominence. McCartney, in just four short seasons, became the winningest coach in Bellevue University history.

McCartney left Bellevue University to return to an assistant position at the Division I level. He accepted a role at the University of Oklahoma as the first-assistant coach. His responsibility under the mentorship of his former college teammate, Kalani Mahi, was assisting in the on-court training and recruitment of student-athletes.

Since starting his head coaching journey in Nebraska at Bellevue University, McCartney has built a resume that any collegiate coach would envy. A .713 winning percentage, 316 career wins and five NCAA Tournament appearances.

McCartney also played on the collegiate and professional levels. He was both an Academic and Collegiate Club All-American while playing for Graceland College from 1983-87. He went on to play for the USAV Open National Champions, Nike Molten, in 1988 before competing professionally from 1989-91 in Umea, Sweden for Team IKSU.

A 1983 graduate of Nebraska's Papillion High School, McCartney completed his undergraduate degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in Economics and Finance from Graceland College in 1987. He then earned a master's degree in sports administration from Eastern Kentucky University in 1992. He is married to the former Andrea Viviano from Kansas City and has a daughter Kate, born June 10, 2004, and son James, born May 18, 2006.

Scholarship Endowments

The Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program was instituted to allow supporters of the University of Georgia Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of UGA student-athletes. The program is vital to the future of Georgia Athletics by providing the long-term solution to keeping pace with escalating expenses. A gift to establish a scholarship provides income towards funding a scholarship each year and permanently memorializes the donor or any individual in whose honor the scholarship is named. A full scholarship is endowed through a gift of $150,000.

The volleyball program at Georgia has four recipients of scholarship endowments in 2010. Leon and Vickie Farmer, of Athens, Ga., endowed the first volleyball scholarship to benefit a student-athlete who is pursuing a degree at the University and represents the University on and off the court in a respectable manner, and the 2010 recipient is junior Carla Tietz. The Michael A. Kahn family, of Charlotte, N.C., has endowed a volleyball scholarship to show support of Georgia's overall athletic program, and the 2010 recipient of that scholarship is junior Kathleen Gates. The third scholarship endowment for volleyball in 2010 is the Dyan Smoltz Family Women's Athletic Scholarship with sophomore Brana Bahr as the recipient. The fourth scholarship endowment for volleyball is the Mack H. Guest III Volleyball Scholarship, and senior Erika Clark is the 2010 recipient.

For more information on the Scholarship Endowment Program or other giving opportunities, please contact the UGA Development Office at 706-542-9220.

Southeastern Conference

Setting the Standard for Intercollegiate Athletics in Women's Volleyball

The Southeastern Conference continues to flourish as a solid and competitive league in women's collegiate volleyball.

In the last two decades, the SEC has made stellar contributions in volleyball. The conference has sent at least two SEC teams to the NCAA Tournament in every season the last 20 years. The SEC had a team reach the Final Four seven of the 10 seasons in the '90s with the league having a team advance to the regional final nine of those 10 seasons. Since 2000, the SEC has had a team reach the Final Four three times and regional final four times.

In 2009, the LSU Tigers won the SEC title, their fifth in program history, first since 1991. The win by LSU snapped an 18-year reign of the Florida Gators. The SEC sent four teams to the NCAA Tournament: Florida, Kentucky, LSU and Tennessee. Kentucky and Tennessee both advanced to the Regional rounds.

Since the inaugural SEC volleyball championship in 1979-80, many changes have occurred in the conference with volleyball. The addition of Arkansas and South Carolina to the league in 1991 brought the divisional format to the sport with five teams competing in the Eastern Division and six teams in the Western Division.

In 2009, the SEC entered into an unprecedented TV agreement with ESPN that provided exclusive coverage of SEC athletics. With the arrangement, SEC volleyball is now broadcast on three different platforms: ESPNU, FS South/Southwest/Sun Sports and CSS and has more exposure than any other league. Live SEC volleyball coverage can now reach into 73 million homes nation-wide on ESPNU, and in the SEC nine state region, 25 million homes on FS South/Southwest/Sun Sports, and 11 million homes on CSS.

2009 Season-In-Review

The University of Georgia volleyball team finished the 2009 season with a 17-14 record, marking the third-straight season the Bulldogs have won 17 matches. In Southeastern Conference action, UGA went 8-12 tying for fifth in the overall league standings, which is the program's highest finish since 2004.

The 2009 squad was the youngest team that third-year Georgia head coach Joel McCartney has ever directed as it featured only three upperclassmen, all juniors, three sophomores and six freshmen. However, the 2009 team found leadership early on as sophomore setter Kathleen Gates was elected team captain while libero and fellow sophomore Carla Tietz was voted assistant team captain. In tournament play, Georgia posted winning records in each event it played including going 2-1 at the Georgia Tech Regency Suites Invitational and 2-1 in the Georgia Dawgs Invitational. Then, UGA earned the Courtyard LaGuardia Volleyball Classic title with a 3-0 mark that capped a season-best six-match winning streak heading into conference play. In league action, Georgia captured its eight victories by sweeping the two-match, season-series with Auburn and Mississippi State while splitting series with Alabama, Arkansas, Ole Miss and South Carolina. The four teams that swept Georgia and finished ahead of the Bulldogs in the SEC standings - LSU, Kentucky, Florida and Tennessee - all advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Five Bulldogs – junior middle hitter Valentina Gonzalez, junior outside hitter Erika Clark, Gates, Tietz and sophomore middle hitter Ann Dylla – provided a steady court presence for the Bulldogs in 2009 by starting all 31 matches. Gonzalez earned All-SEC Second Team recognition after leading the team in hitting percentage (.351), service aces (37), total blocks (130) and points (399.0) and finishing second in kills (291). Gonzalez's hitting percentage of .351 was the highest mark by a Bulldog since 2004 and tied for sixth-best in a single-season in school history, and she finished with the ninth-best block assist total for a season with 118. Clark recorded her second-career Double-300 season with a team-leading 346 kills and 320 digs. For her career, Clark became just the 16th player in school history to eclipse 1,000 career digs as her total now stands at 1,038. Gates, who was named to the SEC Community Service Team, set the tempo for the offense to the tune of 1,122 and in the process became only the seventh player in school history to pass 2,000 career assists as she now has 2,250 after two seasons. Tietz led the team in digs with 459, which was the most by a Bulldog in a single season since Shelly Gross tallied 655 in 1986. For her career, Tietz now sits atop the Georgia career digs per set charts at 3.62. Dylla, the only Bulldog to earn an SEC Player of the Week honor in 2009, finished the year with 211 kills and 126 blocks including 119 solo stops, which ranks eighth for a single-season at UGA.

Completing the usual starting lineup for the Bulldogs in 2009 were freshmen Briana Bahr and Nicole Choi with 29 and 28 starts, respectively. Bahr started 29 matches, was named to the SEC All-Freshman Team after putting up 240 kills at a 2.40 per set rate and finishing third on the team in blocks with 92. Choi started 28 matches and provided the Dogs with 202 digs and 28 service aces.

Also supplementing the offensive output were junior outside hitter Simone May and freshman middle hitter Michele Simmons while freshman defensive specialist Adria Fecteau provided depth in the back court and on serve. May played in 98 sets providing 183 kills and 43 blocks. Simmons played in 46 sets and had 49 kills and 12 blocks and Fecteau appeared in all 114 sets recording 167 digs and 19 service aces.

In addition to another year of growth on the court, the Georgia volleyball program took a step forward off the court as well with the newly constructed UGA Volleyball Center. The new additions that were added to the volleyball area of the Ramsey Student Center including new coaches' offices adjacent to the three-court arena, a theatre-style team video and scouting room, a new training room, a new visitor's locker room and a player's lounge that features a sitting area, a wi-fi bar and a nutrition station.

"It is such a special place to be able to call home," McCartney said of the UGA Volleyball Center. "It certainly is going to enable and help us in the recruiting process. The team has enjoyed it so much already, and it is nice to have a place to connect, where we can see our athletes on and off the court, and be able to grow more of a family with our program."
